

There is a regulatory item underway at the FCC which could badly damage my independent ISP, L A Bridge, to which I have subscribed for 10 years. BellSouth requested that independent ISPs be excluded from access to DSL. If BellSouth is allowed to re-monopolize the telecommunications market, and if SBC and Verizon follow this precedent, virtually all consumers in California will be left with just one choice for DSL.